My first week at a sophomore has officially finished up, and it looks like it's going to be more work and more fun than last year. Nexus is planning a lot of events, my roommate is really cool and actually willing to talk to me, and I'm drinking drinking more caffeine than is probably healthy. I hope you're well and involved in all the research and radio shows you want to be.

Love,
Sophia
